He said he did not go to the week. plant as a minister to preach sermons nor as an evangelist to bring con-verts into the church, but that he was there as a man to have straightfor-ward talks to men about the great problems in life that men have to contend with. His chief aim is to make life seem worth while to all toilers. Road Making, the subject of the talk, was used merely as an analogy. We do not fully realize to what extent good roads foster civilization. Before progress was rapid the old cowpaths of New England had to be improved. First the speaker referred to the roads and road makers of the past. The Romans among the ancients and Macadam and Telford among the modern. Others built roads that have last-ed like the Romans, Caesar and Ci-cero, Chalmers and Carlyle. Everybody blazes out a pathway for him self by which he must stand or fall. self by which he must stand or fall.
Secondly, he referred to the foundation of roads, showing the difference between the Roman, Macadam, and the old New England. Insistence was put on the necessity of getting good, foundation for character. The two kinds of roads were then mentioned, the private and the public. We must build for ourselves, but we shall influence others.

SECOND FIRE AT FARM OF SAMUEL CLARK Norwich Firemen Help to Save Barr and Summer House.

Fanned by a breeze, spars that were blown from the burning baras and silo on the Samuel Clar farm in Preston Tuesday night, set fire to the lee house, summer house and a chicken coop on the farm. At 11.26 o'clock Wednesday morning a telephone message was received at the Central station to the affect that the fire had broken out again and asking help. tion to the effect that the fire had broken out again and asking help. Chief Statton first stated that the firemen would be of no use as there was no water or other fire fighting facilities anywhere near the farm, but he finally agreed to lend what assistance he was able. Chief Stanton hired an auto and took two men with chemicals and an axe to the farm and they lent valuable assistance in the saving of a barn and the summer house which of a barn and the summer house which had caught. They also put out the fire in the hen house, a quarter of a mile away from the cow barn and slic. Chemicals were used to extinguish the flames and a bucket brigade was formed, drawing water from the well. There wasn't even a ladder to work with and Chief Stanton had to improwas practically destroyed when the firemen arrived and several sheds were in flames in addition to the summer house and the hen house. Fear was felt for the snfety of the farmhouse and some of the furniture was removed.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, de-notes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appear-ance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few appli-cations of Sage Tea and Sulphur en-hances its appearance a hundred-fold.

hances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young!
Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another aplication or two its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.
